Steel Conference Ends Just Where It Began

YES OR NO BEFORE 4 O'CLOCK

Disturbance Breaking Out. Strikers Stone Boarding House. Woman Routes Them with Revolver. Reports of Imported Negroes Coming. Excitement Rising

New York, Aug. 3—President Shaffer and other labor leaders arrived at the offices of the United States steel company at 10.45 o'clock today. The conference began shortly before 11 o'clock in President Schwab's office.

There was some question as to whether J. P. Morgan would attend in person, but he will keep in touch with the proceedings.

New York Aug 3—The steel strike conference in President Schwab's offic has adjourned after failing to arrive at an agreement, the Amalgamated officials declining to accent the terms offered by Messrs. Morgan and Schwab.

Adjournment was taken at 12.50.

It is said that the Amalgamated has until 4 o'clock to accept Mr Morgan's offer to return to work at last year's scale.

Representatives of the strikers left today's conference with the announcment that they would go into secret session themselves later in the afternoon.

It was admitted that there might be action at that meeting which would change the situation.

At the conference Messrs Morgan and Schwab insisted upon the acceptance of the terms offered them on Saturday last

President Shaffer and his associates demanded further concessions in behalf of the union

Netiher side would give in and the conference disagreed and parted, leaving the situation practically unchanged

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 3—The removal of the seat of negotiations in the steel strike to New York today at the invitation of J. P. Morgan has relieved the strain upon the public which hopes that today's developments will be the beginning of the end.

The result of the conference will probably mean peace or the extension of the strike.

There was some excitement at Wellsville, Ohio, and McKeesport early today.

At the former place the strikers surrounded a non-union boarding house and prevented non-unionists going to work.

Several shots were fired by the boarding house keepers but no one was hurt

At McKeesport the men in the National mill and the Boston works are reported to be organizing into an Amalgamated lodge. If true this means that all the plants of the National tube company will be idle, involving 10,000 men.

A report was received in McKeesport today to the effect that two carload of negroes were coming from Virginia to take the places of the strikers at the tin plate mill

The strikers appointed a committee of 20 men to meet the train at Connellsville and if possible, persuade the men to return to Virginia.

Great excitement prevails in the town and trouble is expected

Wellsville, Ohio, Aug. 3—Deeply enraged by being outwitted by the mill officials, who yesterday succeeded in running nine new mill workers into the mill, the strikers became desperate last night and asserted that no more accessions must be made to the mill workers.

Accordingly more than 100 of them guarded both entrances to the mill all night and about 2 o'clock this morning they went to the home of a mill worker named Harry Phillips, where are boarding three men who came here a few days ago to work at the mill.

The strikers pelted the house with stones, breaking nearly all the windows and demanded that the mill men who were boarding there come out. Several shots were fired with revolvers by the men, but no one was hurt.

Mrs. Phillips, who is a plucky woman, armed with a revolver, went out into the crowd of strikers and dared them to touch her. She then took the men who were boarding with her, including her husband, to the mill, she walking beside them revolver in hand, and at the same time daring the strikers to interfere

She got the four men inside the mill and then turned and put the mob, as she calls them to route

She says that she knows many of them and will have them arrested.

Some interesting developments are looked for before Monday.

The plant is now running five of its mills, four of them double and one of them single turn.

Manager Brokman declares that the mill will be running in full capacity by Monday.

OFFICERS LEAVE PITTSBURG

To Make Final Effort to Effect an Amicable Settlement—Delay Exhausts Union Men and Fosters Dissension In Their Ranks

Pittsburg, Aug. 3.—Judging by indications that are practically facts, peace or war in the steel troubles will be announced from New York city today. When the Amalgamated association's executive board adjourned last evening, President Shaffer announced that another meeting would be held today. There will probably be a meeting here today of a portion of the board, but the national officers will be in New York. They left for that city last night on the Pennsylvania limited at 10 o'clock. The circumstances leading up to this

INDEPENDENCE AGAIN DEFEATED

Made Remarkable Speed in Last Leg Against Columbia

Batemans Point, R I, Aug 3—The races today were started at 11.20 o'clock, five minutes after the warning signal

The Independence got a good start, crossing the line 30 seconds after the whistle sounded

The Columbia crossed well astern, 30 seconds later

Both crossed on the starboard tack and headed off shore

At 11.30 o'clock the Independence appeared to be sailing very fast but was not pointing as high as the Columbia

The Boston boat appeared to be slightly ahead.

The course is the same as on Thursday, 30 miles.

The sky is overcast and there are whitecaps on the water

The lee rail of the Independence is under water.

At 12.40 o'clock the Columbia has steadily pulled away from the Independence and was nearly a mile ahead and well to windward

At 12.37 o'clock the Columbia was headed for the first mark.

The Columbia turned the first mark at 12,41,30 o'clock, the Independence at 12,44,45, as seen from shore.

The haze was very thick and the turn of the second mark could not be observed.

Both boats at 1.50 o'clock ere sighted coming on the last leg ,sailing rapidly, the Columbia apparently a mile ahead.

At 2 o'clock the boats were five miles from the finish, the Columbia apparently a mile in the lead.

The wind was strong.

The Columbia won the race crossing the finish line at 2,16,50 o'clock. The independence crossed at 2.17,37. The Columbia wins, winning on elapsed time 41 seconds, or on corrected time 1 min. and 18 seconds, as seen from shore.

While the Columbia beat the Independence over three minutes in the 10 miles thrash to windward the Boston boat gained steadily on the last leg and sailed the last five miles so fast that it seems as if the yachts had two miles further to go the Lawson yacht would have won.

The last five miles of the race was one of the most exciting brushes ever seen off Newport and made the race today one of the most interesting of the season.

Hobson on American Navy

Madison, Wis., Aug. 3.—Captain R. P. Hobson delivered an address at the Monona Lake assembly before 5000 persons yesterday. The address was a vigorous and eloquent appeal for a stronger navy. Every congress, he declared, should appropriate at least $35,000,000 for new warships. The United States is destined to become a great world power, and it is fitting that it should have a navy strong enough to maintain it in every portion of the globe.

Ready For Signature, Unless—

Pekin, Aug. 3.—The protocol committee of the ministers of the powers has virtually finished the draft of the protocol, and will submit the same to the other ministers for approval. Passenger Steamers Collided

Old Point, Va., Aug. 3.—Steamer Hampton came in collision with the Jamestown about one mile off Old Point last evening. The excited passengers got out the life preservers, and women fainted. The cause of the collision, it is said, was suction created by fast running for the Old Point wharf. Both vessels signalled they were uninjured.

Awful Sight For a Mother

Woodlawn, Wis., Aug. 3.—Two children of Mrs. Ryder, aged 2 and 4 years, were burned to death yesterday in a barn. The children are supposed to have started the fire while playing with matches. Mrs. Ryder watched the fire while her children burned, but the blaze was too intense for her to render assistance.

FIGHT AND MONEY IS KRUGER'S OFFER

Will Buy Independence. Chamberlain Policy to Be More Severe

Paris, Aug. 3—In an interview in the Figaro today Paul Kruger says: We have already once proposed peace directly to Great Britain and we will not renew the propositions. All we are willing to give for peace is money if Great Britain asks it, and no price is too dear to obtain independence and the right to live as free nation.

Will Never Renounce Boer Flag

Paris, Aug. 3.—The Figaro publishes a long interview today with Mr. Kruger, denying the cruelties charged against the Boers in Lord Kitchener's report. Mr. Kruger declares that the atrocities of the consentration camps were twenty times worse than had been stated by Miss Hobhouse in Great Britain, and that, when fully known, they would cause the world to shudder with horror and move the nations to intervene. "We are defending our liberty," continues Mr. Kruger, "and when it is granted we will lay down our arms. Great Britain knows our conditions. It is not for me to repeat them. We will never renounce our flag and we cannot accept any protectorate. I am convinced that the hour will come when Great Britain will grant what is our right. Moreover, I am confident that God is with us, and will not abandon us."

Re-Entering Cape Colony

Blomfontein, Aug. 3—Commandant Haerman Steyn, cousin of President Steyn, was killed August 11, when fighting at Ficksburg.

The Boers and rebels are re-entering the Berkley West district Cape Colony.

What Kruger Said

London, Aug. 3.—A dispatch from Standerton, Transvaal, dated July 5, which had been stopped by the censor, has just been received here. It reads: "Walter Kitchener met Louis Botha and his secretary, De Wet, by appointment, near Blat Rand, a few days ago. They brought Kruger's reply to Botha's surrender proposal. It was: "Botha, De Wet, Delarey, Steyn: Continue fighting. Alleviation will be sent when needed. Enough for the present."

But For Handful of Irreconcilables—Chamberlain Says Kitchener Will Adequately Deal With What Has Developed Into Absolute Murder

London, Aug. 3.—A discussion arose in the house of commons last night over the colonial office appropriation, and it gave the opponents of the government ample opportunity to bait Mr. Chamberlain, while making a motion pro forma to reduce by $500 the appropriation out of which the colonial secretary's salary will be paid.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader, said that, in view of the patience with which the nation had for 21 months endured Mr. Chamberlain's policy in South Africa, he thought it opportune to secure a statement from the colonial secretary as to the war situation. He went on to point out that Cape Colony was now invaded, and over-run with Boers; and he asked what prospect there was of repelling the invaders; what the condition of Cape Colony would be after the war; what was the prospect of famine as a result of the government "policy of devastation."

WOULD GLADLY SURRENDER

Mr. Chamberlain replied that farm burning had been entirely abandoned and repiaced by the policy of concentration camps. He contended that these were humane and satisfactory institutions, as had been shown by the fact that thousands of Boers came into them voluntarily.

"The government has the best reasons to believe," continued the colonial secretary, "that a vast majority of the Boers acknowledge themselves beaten and would gladly surrender and resume peaceful pursuits, but for the comparative handful of irreconcilables, who are carrying on a guerilla war that is rapidly degenerating into brigandage and absolute murder. Lord Kitchener is adequately dealing with the problem by establishing blockhouse cordons within which the peacefully inclined can safely settle and be protected."

Regarding the announcement by Lord Kitchener that Commandant Kritzinger had declared his intention to shoot all natives in British employ, whether armed or unarmed, Mr. Chamberlain said the government had telegraphed Lord Kitchener to inform the Boer leader that such acts were contrary to civilized usage, and that all guilty persons of this class, if captured, would be court-martialled and executed.

"There seems to be an impression that we have come to some sort of an agreement with the Boers," said Mr. Chamberlain in another portion of his speech, "that natives are not to be employed in this war; but there is no such agreement.

"Incursions into the protected districts must be more severely dealt with, if there is to be 'sniping' of soldiers from behind hedges and even of women.

"If things have changed form bad to worse in Cape Colony," he continued, "it is because the Cape rebels have found rebellion a cheap, interesting and even amusing performance. Then, there has been mistaken leniency, and this was the policy in the past.

"Botha, De Wet and Schalk-Burger do not say that the war was caused by the raid. They say they are fighting for their independence. It is nonsense to speak of offering terms to men who say it must be a fight to the finish. This is now the policy of the government."

The debate was continued after Mr. Chamberlain's speech and the amendment to reduce the salary of the colonial secretary was rejected by a vote of 154 to 70.

The house then took up other subjects and adjourned at 5:45 this morning.

Blacks Fighting For British

London, Aug. 3.—A correspondent of The Daily News says: "We have deliberately armed the natives. I have seen scores of them with rifles and bandoliers. Once I travelled in a train which carried two truck loads of armed blacks in complete khaki get-up. They are constantly to be seen about Kimberley and to the north of that town. Armed Kaffirs have been allowed to attack people on their farms in Bechuanaland, in parts of the Transvaal and in the vicinity of Mafeking.

Cape Colony Overrun With Boers

London, Aug. 3.—The Capetown correspondent of The Daily Mail, in a communication dated July 17, places the strength of the Boers in Cape Colony at between 7000 and 8000 men, almost all of whom are rebels. The Daily Mail contrasts this with the official statement not long ago that there were only 1000.

"Interview Unauthorized"

Salt Lake, Utah, Aug. 3.—When shown the Washington dispatch stating that the war department would take cognizance of the published interview regarding the court of inquiry upon his father, Captain Schley stated that the interview, as published, was wholly unauthorized. "All I said in the matter," said Captain Schley, "was that I was naturally a Schley 'partisan' and hoped my father would be fully vindicated. Surely there is nothing improper in a son wishing his father success. In the first place I am not competent to discuss the case, because I know nothing of it. My father has never spoken of the matter to me, and has never mentioned it in his letters. If my father has anything 'up his sleeve' he has not notified me of the fact."

Bryan on the Controversy

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 3.—In his comment on the naval controversy, W. J. Bryan takes the side of Rear Admiral Schley, giving him credit for the victory at Santiago, and declaring it a "pity that there should be any controversy that seeks to discredit a brave, honorable and modest sea fighter, who successfully led the American forces in one of the greatest, if not the greatest, naval battles in the history of the world." Mr. Bryan denounces the Maclay history of the struggle.

Pickets Sent to Jail

Paterson, N. J., Aug. 3.—George Heald and Samuel Hart, strikers, were yesterday convicted of interference with non-union workers at the Enterprise silk mills. They did nothing more than walk on the street with one of the non-union men, and talk with him after he had addressed them first. They admitted that they were doing picket duty about the mill, and it was on this admission that they were convicted on the technical charge of disorderly conduct, and were each sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Coke Companies Consolidate

Pittsburg, Aug. 3.—The actual consolidation of the coke properties of the constituent concerns of the United States Steel corporation occurred yesterday when the H. C. Frick company of the Carnegie company became paramount in the coke operations of the Connellsville district. Today the Frick company controls four-fifths of the production and acreage of the district. The total number of completed ovens owned and controlled is 18,385 and about 1000 are building.

A DESPERATE CHASE

Officers Said to Be on Blondin's Trail, but Far Inside Bear

Boston, Aug. 3.—A Quebec special to The Journal says that State Officers Dunham and Letteney are searching for Joseph W. Blondin in the wilds of Gaspee, assisted by a posse of men, all armed with shotguns. They have had a good clue to Blondin's whereabouts and it will be several days before the result of the search is known.

The special further says that officer Letteney has been on the trail of the suspect since July 6, when High Sheriff Gale of Quebec secured word that Blondin had been in Levis. He took a steamer for the Saugen river, and was later heard from at Tadousac.

The officers could not catch up with him, for Blondin was next heard from at Bergerennes, leaving there in a sail boat during a big storm. He reached the opposite bank of the river all right, and plunged into the woods and headed for the Gaspee peninsular.

The officers are now on his trail, but fully 300 miles south in the heart of the wilderness. Blondin is thought to be making for the lower St. Lawrence region.

A Bewildering Cognomen

Boston, Aug. 3.—A Greek pedler was in court yesterday charged with lingering in one spot with his push cart for more than the five minutes allowed by law. It took three court officers and an interpreter to draw the warrant, for the prisoner's name is the longest on record here. It is Sebastinovis Agnostropoplissimissa. He was fined 1 cent a minute for the overtime violation of the ordinance.

Tom Reed and the Mayoralty

Portland, Me., Aug. 3.—Thomas B. Reed was interviewed yesterday afternoon in regard to the story to the effect that he had been suggested as a candidate for mayor of New York by an anti-Tammany leaguer. Mr. Reed authorized the announcement that whatever movement was on foot in the direction indicated it was without his knowledge or consent and against his desire.

Held In $2000 Bail

Rutland, Vt., Aug. 3.—Earl Anson was brought here yesterday for a hearing on the charge of administering drugs to Lena Ainsworth, which act is alleged to have caused her death, but the hearing was postponed until the 15th instant, bail being fixed at $2000. The girl died in the office of a doctor at Cuttingsville, to whom, it is claimed, Anson had taken her for treatment.

Got Into Strange Waters

Westerly, R. I., Aug. 3.—A marine wonder, sighted off Watch Hill light house yesterday, proved to be a gigantic sunfish, common to the gulf of Mexico. It was brought to shore by Captain Burdick, and as it had been benumbed by the cold water it was easily secured. It was 7 feet in length and 7 feet deep, and weighed a quarter of a ton.

Less Work For Same Pay

Quincy, Mass., Aug. 3.—The Quincy branch of the International Building Laborers' union has been granted its demand for a minimum wage of $2.25 for eight hours' work. The men have hitherto worked nine hours for the same pay. The improved conditions were brought about without the necessity of a strike.

Named After Newspaper Man

Mt. Washington, N. H., Aug. 3.—The great ravine which parallels the Mt. Washington railway has been officially named Burt's ravine by the county commissioners of Coos county, in memory of Henry M. Burt of Springfield, who founded and published here for 22 years the daily paper "Among the Clouds."

Caught by Falling Roof

Cambridge, Mass., Aug. 3.—At a fire last night that destroyed a house owned by John Brooks, three firemen, Edward Conroy, Fred Reed and J. W. Jeffries, were carried down by a falling roof, and more or less injured. Jeffries was the most seriously hurt. The loss on the building was about $4000.

Goes to Lynn and Boston Company

Salem, Mass., Aug. 3.—A deed of the real estate and franchise of the Lowell, Lawrence and Haverhill Street railway to the Lynn and Boston Street Railway company was filed for record yesterday. The document states that the valuation agreed upon is $1,402,748.86.

One Partner Is Missing

New York, Aug. 3.—Samuel M. Rosenburger was arrested yesterday on an indictment charging him with fraudulent disposition of property and grand larceny. He was held in $4000 bail. Rosenburger was in partnership with Hyman J. Ruben. They failed two weeks ago, with liabilities of $100,000 and practically no assets. Two firms declared that they sold goods to the firm on July 8, and three days later they failed. Replevin proceedings failed to locate the goods, and they were not entered on the books. Ruben also was indicted, but he is missing.

More Anarchists Reported Arrested

Paris, Aug. 3.—According to a correspondent of The Figaro, who alludes to the recent arrest of Amiel Galliotti, the anarchist, in Switzerland, Quintavello and Lanni of the Paterson anarchist group who recently arrived from the United States have also been arrested in Geneva. The correspondent repeats the rumor that Galliotti is an accomplice of Bresci, who killed King Humbert, and came to Europe with a mission to kill Emperor Nicholas.

Depositors Will Lose Nothing

New York, Aug. 3.—It is unofficially announced that the directors of the failed Seventh National bank have practically perfected plans for the payment of all depositors in full, and that the official announcement will be made within a week. It is claimed that $2,000,000 has already been guaranteed in the plan of reorganization.

unexpected trip, while not officially made known, are evident enough to substantiate the story which follows:

During the day many telegrams were received at the association conference rooms, the last coming just before adjournment, and it was answered promptly. This answer was in all probability the announcement to the New York people that the trip would be made by the officials at once, carrying out an arrangement entered into at Veryl Preston's rooms in the Hotel Henry a short time before.

At about 4:45 p. m. Messrs. Shaffer, Williams and Chappelle went to Mr. Preston's rooms and were closeted with him for about 30 minutes. The understanding is that at this meeting Mr. Preston made known the combine's only concession in the matter of re-opening the wage conference where it left off three weeks ago. This concession was in the shape of a demand that if a new conference is granted it must be specifically stated beforehand what is expected to be accomplished, what ground is to be covered and what companies are to participate.

This brings the matter up to the Amalgamated association, and the mission of its high officials to New York is doubtless to convince the steel people that a new conference is essential to peace and an amicable settlement of the strike troubles.

The conference yesterday was a repetition of Thursday, the strictest kind of secrecy being maintained as to the happenings inside the room, and the progress being made had to be guessed at.

The situation is believed to be worse for the Amalgamated association today than at any other time since the struggle began. Carrying out its principle of unrelenting severity, the United States Steel corporation seems determined not only to win the present struggle, but also to crush the Amalgamated association.

To do this the syndicate managers have pursued a waiting policy, wearing out the union men and the officers by uncertainty and a tangle of rumors of resumption, first at one plant and then at another. All this consumes the labor union's money and gives time for dissension to spring up among the workmen. Now each time the steel corporation officials are approached on the settlement question they propose harder terms. What President Shaffer and the Amalgamated committee will do cannot be foretold.

A telegram from Wellsville, O., says: At the close of the third week of the strike among the steel workers in the Wellsville plant of the American Sheet Steel company the steel trust has the better of the argument. Nine new men from Scottdale, Pa., were brought here yesterday afternoon by train and taken into the mill without a hand being raised or a word of reasoning used to stop them from entering the mill. The addition of these men to the force already at work will make it possible for the mill management to put on nine regular wheels, about half the mill's regular complement of men. The strikers are much chagrined over the company getting the men in the mill.

Where the Hitch Comes

Washington, Aug. 3.—The American Federationist, the official monthly magazine of the American Federation of Labor, in its issue for August, in speaking of the steel strike, says: "The point upon which negotiations finally broke off was that the trust tried to make it a condition of employment that the men in the non-union mills should refrain from joining any union. The Amalgamated association insisted upon their right to endeavor to organize these non-union men into the union, and to finally secure for them the wage scale paid in union mills operated by the trust."

Coal Workers Called Out

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 3.—A committee of the United Mine Workers went to the Maltby colliery of the Lehigh Valley Coal company yesterday for the purpose of examining the union cards of the miners, but the superintendent refused to allow the committee to intercept the employes. The committee then ordered out all the union miners. The order was obeyed, and 600 men and boys quit work.

Machinists Get Concessions

Sharon, Pa., Aug. 3.—The machinists' strike at the National Steel works and the Sharon Steel plant was settled yesterday. The terms of settlement are as follows: An advance of wages of 50 cents per day, pay and a half for overtime, and 58 1-2 hours to constitute a week's work. The company has agreed to discharge all non-union workmen within 15 days.

Incendiaries Fulfilled Threat

Orleans, Ind., Aug. 3.—Heise & Sons, proprietors of the flouring mill at Saltillo, received a note informing them that unless they put a certain sum of money in a sack and left it at a given point, their mill would be burned. A sack filled with buggy washers was deposited and men lay in wait several hours, but no person approached the sack. It disappeared shortly afterward, however, and the mill was burned to the ground during the night.

Stolen Money Recovered

Goshen, Ind., Aug. 3.—Private detectives, employed by an Akron, O., banking institution, have made an important arrest in a local gambling den, which resulted in recovering nearly $16,000 in currency and gold coin. The two men who were captured had rifled a vault in the Akron bank 10 days ago, and since then had been shadowed. The bank directors, fearing a panic, kept the facts secret until yesterday.

Colored Folks In a Panic

Lorain, O., Aug. 3.—A hundred colored church picnickers were precipitated a distance of 10 feet by the collapse of a trestle bridge from the railroad to the grove at Oak Point yesterday, causing a panic. No one was killed, and the score of injured suffered mostly sprained limbs and bruised bodies.

German Balloonist's Great Record

Berlin, Aug. 3.—Dr. Sauring Berson, a member of the Meterological institute, has just completed a balloon ascent during which he reached a height of 33,500 feet. The lowest recorded temperature was 40 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

Improved Weather Conditions Have Created a Better Feeling

New York, Aug. 3.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: Continued favorable weather conditions have resulted in the saving of much late-planted corn, and in the northwest ideal weather for spring wheat harvest has been enjoyed. As this is the point that business in all parts of the country has been most carefully watching, the general feeling is better than a week ago, although the disposition on both sides to settle the steel strike has not yet resulted in any agreement, and the labor situation is thus kept prominent.

The excellent business enjoyed in some important lines is illustrated by the refusal of the American Woolen company to take further orders on the goods it recently opened, as mill capacity has been reached. Some of these could have been sold twice over. Collections are prompt. Railroad earnings for July thus far reported increased 10.4 percent over last year.

Dealers in some drouth-stricken districts have countermanded orders for footwear, and these cancellations are felt mainly by western makers, but as a whole the industry is in a healthy position. New England shops frequently decline orders that request delivery before November, indicating full employment for several months. Leather is quiet, shoe factories buying lightly, owing to large supplies taken recently.

Wool has at last risen slightly. The cotton market awaits the government report in a dull and weak position.

IN A CHAOTIC STATE

Venezuela and Colombia Are Both Deeply Involved In Strife

Washington, Aug. 3.—The political situation in the neighboring republics of Venezuela and Colombia, in South America, and the possibility of war between these two states is attracting considerable attention in diplomatic circles. Should war actually result, the authorities in each country would not only have to deal with their foreign enemies, but also with their domestic foes, as each of the countries now has what practically amounts to a civil war on its hands. Neither the Colombian nor the Venezuelan legation here has much direct information, and the cable reports are exceedingly conflicting.

The officials at the Colombian legation are at a loss to understand the report of President Castro's declaration of martial law on the ground that his country is being invaded by Colombia. The revolution, headed by Dr. Galviras, who crossed the Venezuelan border from Colombia, where he had made refuge, is said to be in no sense an invasion by Colombians. Dr. Galviras belonged to the party of Andrade, who was overthrown by Castro.

No definite information has been received here regarding the whereabouts of General Uribe, who, in turn, is heading a movement against the present government in Colombia, from the Venezuelan side. The last news of his whereabouts was that he was at Maracaibo, and had not yet crossed into Colombia, where it was supposed he would attempt to effect a juncture with Narin, the noted guerilla, who is still carrying on a vestige of the last rebellion in the mountains of the central range of the Andes.

Americans Show Wisdom

London, Aug. 3.—From interviews with agents of the various trans-Atlantic steamship lines The Daily Mail draws the following conclusions: Visitors from America this year are as numerous as ever before, but, apparently, as the American tourist increases in number he increases also in thriftiness. Cabmen, porters and hotel servants are as one in declaring that the average American is the least remunerative of their clients. This establishes a new reputation for the American abroad.

Many Hurt In Trolley Accident

Springfield, O., Aug. 3.—A trolley car scheduled to arrive in this city from Dayton at 9:30 o'clock crashed into a coal car, which stood on an open switch near Donnellsville, last evening, and as a result 14 persons are in a hospital seriously injured. Four are believed to be dying, and others went to their homes with injuries which were considered too slight to record.

Confessed to Lynchers

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 3.—With a rope around his neck and death before him, Charles Bentley, a negro, confessed to the murder of Jim Vann, a white man, and he was hanged by a mob near Leeds yesterday. The body was riddled with bullets.

THE GREAT CRESCEUS

Still Further Reduces the World's Trotting Record

MADE A MILE IN 2:02 1-4

Passed Half Mile Pole In 59 3-4 Seconds, a Record Never Before Attained—Might Have Done Better, but For Facing Wind on Stretch

Columbus, O., Aug. 3.—Cresceus, the champion of the trotting turf, added more laureis to his fame yesterday by trotting a mile in 2:02 1-4, reducing by half a second his week-old record of 2:02 3-4, made at Cleveland a week ago.

In the over-night pool selling a great deal of money went into the box at odds of $25 to $17 on time against the trotter. At the track, owing to the fierce wind, the odds against the horse increased to $25 to $8, but the backers of Cresceus were game, and took the short end as long as pools were sold.

George Ketcham appeared on the track with Cresceus a little before 3 o'clock. The champion jogged three miles slower than three minutes, and one in 2:22. An hour later, he came out again, and, after scoring several times, stepped a mile in 2:25. Still later he worked out for the last time in 2:15 1-2. He evidently had great power in reserve, and the vast throng waited patiently for the great test.

It was evident that the wind would not decrease before dark, and at 5:40 the stallion was brought out for the last time. On the fifth score Ketcham nodded for the word, but Cresceus was not in his stride, and he pulled up at the first turn to try it again. Down to the wire he rushed, the runner two lengths behind, and this time it was a go.

Gamely facing the breeze, the champion started on his journey, moving with apparent ease, and at his greatest speed. The runner caught him at the quarter and a shout went up as the time was shown to be a quarter of a second less than 30. Now the wind was at his back, and, realizing the advantage, Ketcham kept him at his great clip. The half-mile pole was passed in 59 3-4 seconds, a record never before attained, and here the second runner caught him up. The three-quarter pole was reached in 1:30 1-4.

Then came the great trial, for as Cresceus turned into the stretch, the bitter wind beat him in the face and held him back. For the fraction of a second he seemed to falter, but his driver's voice encouraged him, and on he came. With indomitable courage he plunged, in toward the finish with unweakened stride, and, in spite of weariness and the buffeting of the breeze, he flashed under the wire a winner in 2:02 1-4 against time.

But for the wind it is believed his time would have been a second faster. It was the most wonderful mile ever trotted on any track. Enthusiasm broke loose as soon as the horse passed the wire. The crowd rushed on the track to greet the champion, and a huge wreath of flowers was hung around his neck.

Mr. Ketcham, owner and driver, was carried to the judges' stand, and in a few words he expressed his appreciation of the interest taken in the attempt, his trust in Ohio's horses, and his confidence in his own great trotter. Cresceus was not unduly fatigued by his effort, and half an hour later seemed ready for another trial.

Thousands of Artisans Idle

Odessa, Aug. 3.—As evidence of the ruinous stagnation of trade in southern Russia, a government factory inspector asserts that 70 percent of all the industrial works of the great manufacturing government of Ekaterinoslav have suspended, and in order to relieve distress and to prevent disturbances 40,000 artisans have been deported to their homes at the expense of the government. Conditions in the other industrial centers of southern Russia are similar.

A NEW FEATURE

The North Adams Transcript

CITY GUIDE and BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

Appreciating the demand for a City Guide in handy shape for quick reference, The Transcript has adopted this new feature, which will be found in every issue on page 3.

Notwithstanding the fact that it is occupying valuable advertising space, and that much time and expense has been used in compiling the same, it is our firm belief that its popularity and convenience will make it a permanent and much appreciated feature.

The City Guide will be kept fresh and up to date, will be officially corrected every month, and will prove valuable to all classes of readers.

If at any time you should wish to know anything about the city, its churches and their pastors, its schools and their teachers, the fire alarm boxes and signals, the arrival and departure of mails, the railroad time tables, etc., all may be found in the Guide, and may be relied upon.

Business Directory

It is our purpose to add to the Guide a directory of the businesses and enterprises of the city, by publishing cards of the prominent and reliable leaders in their respective lines.

This, we believe, will not only be a convenience to our readers seeking information, but will prove of great service and value to the business men whose cards appear. In this business department a small charge will be made for the insertion of the cards.

The Transcript

DAILY—Issued every afternoon (except Sunday) at 4 o'clock; 12 cents a week, 50 cents a month, $6 a year.

WEEKLY—Issued every Thursday morning, $1 a year in advance.

A. W. HARDMAN.

The Transcript Building, Bank Street, North Adams, Mass.

I know not what record of sin awaits me in the other world; but this I do know, that I never was so mean as to despise a man because he was poor, because he was ignorant, or because he was black.

MEMBERS ASSOCIATED PRESS

The latest telegraph dispatches from all parts of the world are received exclusively by the Transcript up to the hour of going to press.

WE HOLD THE WESTERN GATEWAY

From seal of the city of North Adams.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON AUG. 3, 1901

ADVERTISERS in the Transcript are the best business men in the community. Their advertisements are worth reading and they are the firms with whom to trade most advantageously.

THE STAMP MAN

North Adams merchants are toying with the trading stamp man. Better not Let the trading stamp man work along with the rest.—Pittsfield Eagle.

The trading stamp man may be in the predicament that "Dick" Quinn is in. Notoriety may have shut him out of a job. There is no telling in what form hard luck may strike a man and we must all be charitable.

ANTIQUE EDUCATION

A critic on education makes himself ridiculous in these advanced times by talking this way about training a boy:

"What better training could he have than constant association with the best thoughts of the brightest minds of all ages? This has given him a comprehensive mental horizon. He appreciates the fitness of things. All this gives his conscience vigor. It confers moral purpose. Given a wide intellectual horizon, and at the same time firm, moral purpose and you have what I call an educated man."

It is quite evident that this critic's early education has been neglected. It is also evident that he should at once take steps to make good his loss. A commercial course, typewriting and stenography, is just what he wants. They offer it in New York, guaranteed, for $6.50 and they are trying to give it away at Drury.

It pays to be educated and it doesn't cost much.

NAMES NOT ACCEPTABLE

The suggestion of such men as Gaston and Hamlin for the democratic nomination for governor recalls old times, but contains little promise for the new era in democracy. Hamlin by his public record in the Cleveland administration connects with the old regime and Gaston also connects with it by his associations, preferences and sympathies. These men are distinctly men of Cleveland democracy and, because of that, no matter how high their ability, how sound their judgment or how safe would be their administration of public affairs they cannot compel the enthusiasm or solid support of the democracy as it is constituted today. The candidate to win the enthusiasm of the democracy at these times must have a certain flavor of smash. If there is nothing in him that promises kick and wreck he is not acceptable.

The democracy has fallen to this and there is no help in sight.

SOME THINGS WE HAVE DONE

The North Adams Transcript has called attention to some features of the Fosburgh trial which fit the case pretty well. The comment as reprinted in a recent issue of the Eagle was favorably commented upon locally. The Transcript's view of the case was not of the long distance variety, it having had a reliable man at the trial who evidently saw a few things and conveyed the impressions home with him.—Pittsfield Eagle.

We are very glad indeed that we called attention to some features of the trial that fit the case. We should be ashamed of ourselves if we had picked out features that didn't fit it. If we had picked out a glass eye too large for it or a nose that would hang to its chin we should feel humiliated. And we are glad that the Transcript's view had a reliable man to see things for it. A view that has a viewer is likely to get a good look. Besides it pleases us to know that our view's viewer conveyed his impressions home with him. Supposing he had lost them by the way!

However, we appreciate the Eagle's good intentions. The Eagle is a well meaning paper.

TIME IT WAS ENDED

A week ago today the president of the Amalgamated association, Shaffer, and the head of the great steel combine, Morgan, were in conference and the conference ended with bright prospects for peace in the steel industry. The general opinion was that the end of the strike was at hand. The week has developed nothing but fruitless attempts on the part of the Amalgamated officials to reach a conclusion themselves and great anxiety on the part of the patient public and on the part of the men who are out of work and wages. And today there is another conference in New York, just what was had a week ago. Is another whole week to be spent in fussing and fooling? There have been reports that the Amalgamated association was losing public confidence and support. We can understand how this may be true. The indecision, temporizing and evident disagreement of the association's executive board are enough to destroy confidence. Great achievements are never reached by dilly-dallying. It is time it was ended.

BRITISH LENIENCY TO STOP

Present information regarding the state of things in South Africa is that the Boer leaders are as stubborn as ever and that the British policy is to be increased in severity. Paul Kruger, himself, is reported as telegraphing to Botha and Dewet, Delarey and Steyn, "Continue fighting; alleviation will be sent when needed; enough for the present." And in the British house of commons yesterday there was a sharp debate on the war which brought out from Joseph Chamberlain an expression of Great Britain's determination to deal with the situation with more rigor. It appears from the colonial secretary's replies to his critics that the ministry believe it has been too lenient and that it is time for a policy of leniency to be abandoned. The Boer leaders have been warned of the punishment that will be measured out to those who are encouraging what is termed "absolute murder," and the secretary's speech contains a clear hint to the Boer sympathizers in Cape Colony. "If things have changed from bad to worse in Cape Colony," the secretary said, it is because the Cape rebels have found rebellion a cheap, interesting and even amusing performance. Then this has been mistaken leniency; this was the policy in the past."

DEMOCRATIC LIBERTY

It is in the democratic party that there is hope for down-trodden people? Read from the democratic platform of Maryland and see:

The democratic party represents more than 40,000 majority of the white people of Maryland. They in common with their brethren of other states in which large masses of colored voters have been injected into the body politic, recognize that the peace, good order, personal safety and proper development of our national interests depend upon the control of the commonwealth by its intelligent white residents. Without the aid of the 60,000 colored voters, the republican party in Maryland would be a hopeless minority.

"We, therefore, without hesitation, proclaim that the success of the democratic party will mean that while we shall deal with perfect fairness in securing all the benefits of good government and full and free opportunities for education to all classes such action must be taken to prevent the control of the state government from passing into the hands of these who have neither the ability nor the interest to manage public affairs wisely and well."

No hitch in adopting the platform that contained this as its only feature. No dissenting voice. The white democrats must rule. They boldly declare they will, and they will. The black man shall be disfranchised. He shall be deprived of his rights, the rights given him in his day of liberty under the stars of the American flag. And the 15th amendment to the constitution of the United States reads: "The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude."

But, O, the poor Porto Ricans! O, the poor Filipinos! The scoundrel republicans! The imperial republicans! Shall not the constitution follow the flag? Shall we, the children of Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln, hold a people in bondage? Shall we——

A democrat is a funny fellow, isn't he?

Mort D'Amour

Without a moan, without a parting word,
Love turned away his weary face and died—
He had but one pale mourner at his side
And through the lonely night she wept, unheard
Of any save the prying wind that stirred
The draperies of the window where the tide
Of dawn poured in at last; and hollow-eyed
She grouped her way, by restless sorrow spurred,
To seek where she might best Love's burial crave
But Fate refused to grant her any place.
Wherein to hide him, "Nay, poor soul" said she,
"Dead Love may never lie within a grave;
But you must watch beside his changed face.
Through bitter years of barren constancy!"

—Charlotte Becker.

How Lawrence Descended

A copy of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer of July 14 has been received, describing the visit of the congressional committee on rivers and harbors to that place While there the committee visited the electric power chamber of Snoqualmie Falls, which is located 260 feet underground. In describing the descent in the elevator the Post-Intelligencer says:

A party headed by Congresman Lawrence of Massachusetts, was the first to board the elevator. Mrs. Lawrence was somewhat in the rear of the long line.

"Farewell to all!" shouted Lawrence, jocosely, as the elevator carriage disappeared in the blackness of the shaft. Then a voice from below was heard, "Give my love to my wife!"

Of course everybody laughed, but it is nevertheless to be recorded that as the strangers shot down the long, black chamber their faces blanched and some of them trembled as if with ague. It's a long ride down that shaft, the bottom being 260 feet from the earth's surface. The lightning apparatus broke and the ride was made in pitchy darkness. As the elevator carriage nears the power chamber the roar of the water wheels grows louder and louder until it is almost deafening.

THE QUEEN OF WATERING PLACES.

Saratoga, the queen of watering places, is one of the most interesting places on the Continent. THERE WERE 38 DELINQUENTS

Pittsfield Street Railway Among Those Liable to Heavy Penalty

Some days ago the Transcript published a list of the returns of local int erest under the act of 1891 to provide for the return of legislative expenses. The time for filing was July 19 at 5 p. m.. The act provides that any person, private or public corporation which shall violate any provision of such act shall for each offense be fined not less than $100 nor more than $1000. Any person who shall act as legislative counsel or agent contrary to the provisions of such act shall be fined not less than $100 nor more than $1000, and shall be disbarred from acting as legislative counsel for the period of three years from the date of such conviction. It shall be the duty of the attorney-general, upon information, to bring prosecution for the violations of such act.

The list this year is interesting since it includes 38 delinquents from whom no reports were received, among them being the American loan and trust company, the Boston bar association, the town of Brookline, the engineer's and firemen's union, the First church of Christ Scientist, Thomas E. Gibney by six agents, the Harvard college corporation, the Masachusetts society for prevention of cruelty to children, Wilfred Rackemann, the horse breeders' association the town of Medway, the Masachusetts electrical medical society, the Medford and Waltham street railway company, the Lowell and Pelham street railway company, the Pittsfield electric railway company, the Westboro and Worcester railway company, the New York life insurance company, the Pacific mills, the town of Revere, John F Wakefield, the town of Westfield. There were 20 who reported after the time limit, and they included:

TO SAVE HER CHILD

From frightful disfigurement Mrs. applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve to great sores on her head and face, and writes its quick cure exceeded all her hopes. It works wonders in Sores, Bruises, Skin Eruptions, Cuts, Burns, Scalds and Piles. 25c. Cure guaranteed by Burlingame & Darby, druggists.

Spider Fangs.

Most spiders are possessed of poison fangs, but very few are dangerous to human beings.

Archery In Ireland.

Although volunteer enrollment has never been extended to Ireland, yet in the days when archery formed a part of the defensive instruction of the manhood of the nation the use of the bow was by law taught to the men and youth of Erin.

Swarming Bees.

The first swarm from a beehive is always led by an old queen, the second by the oldest princess, who is obliged to go in a hurry owing to her younger heirs emerging from their cells.

Lots of Enemies.

Entomologists declare that the sugar cane has 227 varieties of insect enemies.

The Snow Line.

Fifteen thousand two hundred and sixty feet is the height of the snow line on the equator. It is about 5,000 feet in the latitude of London.

Keeping Potatoes Warm.

To keep potatoes warm for a long time, when ready before wanted, remove the steamer from the saucepan, have ready a clean warm cloth, fold it to fit the steamer between the potatoes and the lid and replace the lid lightly. The cloth absorbs the moisture and prevents the potatoes from becoming sodden.

Cairo.

Cairo is the greatest town of Africa. Its inhabitants number 500,000, 25,000 being Europeans.

The Biggest Mortar.

The biggest mortar in the world is Mallet's 36 inch, made in 1855. It is still to be seen in Woolwich arsenal. After three rounds it showed signs of cracking.

The Highest Tide.

Fundy bay, in Nova Scotia, has a tide of 68 feet, the highest in the world.

Perforated Bread Boxes

When bread is taken from the oven, it should be exposed to pure air until perfectly cool before being wrapped in a bread blanket or put into a bread box. A bread box should always be perforated so the air can have access to the bread. When bread is shut in an airtight box, it becomes moist and grows moldy.

New South Wales.

The oldest British colony in Australia is New South Wales. It was founded as a penal settlement in 1788.

"Yule."

The word "Yule" has in reality nothing to do with Christmas. It is an old Scandinavian word signifying the winter solstice, which was kept as a feast by the old heathen Goths.

DIED SUDDENLY

Bishop Littlejohn of Long Island Diocese Dropped Dead in Williamstown

WAS A SUMMER GUEST THERE

Stricken With Apoplexy This Noon as He Was Crossing the Lawn. A Leader in Religious Life of the Country

Right Reverand Abram Lewkirk Littlejohn, D. D. LL. D., bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Long Island, died very suddenly at noon today in the Greylock hotel in Williamstown, where he was passing his vacation. The cause was apoplexxy.

Bishop Littlejohn had been to the barber shop in the hotel, and was crossing the lawn to go to the home of H. E. Pellew. When near the sidewalk he complained to his valet, who was with him. of a dizzy feeling, and almost immediately he reeled and fell into the arms of his valet. Several guests of the hotel were on the piazza, and thinking that he had simply fainted, they rushed to his aid with a chair He was carried to his room, where he lay unconscious. Dr. F. W. Olds was summoned and reached the room with in a very few moments, but Bishop Littlejohn died 15 minutes from the time of the shock, without regaining consciousness.

There were with him at the time of his death his daughter, Mrs. William Park Bird of Cottage City, L. I, and her husband, who has been Bishop Littlejohn's assistant in the cathedral there.

The body will be take to Garden City tomorrow morning, and the funeral will be held there. Mrs. Bird will go to Pittsfield this evening to stay with relatives, and will join her husband on the way to New York tomorrow morning.

Bishop Littlejohn was not widely known to the people of Williamstown, not having been there before a week ago, when he came to the Greylock for his vacation with his daughter and son-in-law. Rev. Dr. Rackus, one of the standing committee of the diocese, was also with him at the Greylock, plans were being made to have him preach one Sunday in St. John's church at Williamstown before his return. He was to have gone to Saratoga for a few days this afternoon.

Bishop Littlejohn was elected bishop of the Long Island diocese in 1867. He was a native of New York state, and a graduate of Union college. He studied theology at Princeton and at the General theological seminary in New York. He was rector for many years of St Paul's church in New Haven and of Holy Trinity church in Brooklyn. He was first trained for the Presbyterian faith but changed to the Episcopal as the result of personal conviction.

A short time before his election to the Long Island diocese he was elected bishop of the Central diocese of New York, but declined this election.

His election as bishop of the Long Island diocese came in 1867. Under his administration the diocese had developed remarkably, especially the institutions of Garden City, the cathedral city of the diocese. During his term of office the A. T. Stewart fortune was left to build up the institutions of the city, including the cathedral, which though not large is one of the most beautiful from an artistic point of view in the country.

He was a man of great grasp of mind large knowledge, eloquent and a fine preacher. In him was combined the preacher, theologian, administrator and a church statesman.

He is said to have been the author of the famous overture made to all the Protestant churches, wtih a view of bringing about a greater Christian unity.. He was also the author of many books.

He leaves in addition to his daughter, Mrs. Bird, another daughter, Mrs Wesson of Brooklyn.

MURDERER LEARY'S RECORD

Philadelphia Officers Say He Had a Very Bad Temper

Sheriff Fuller has received a letter from the superintendent of police in the district where Daniel Leary, alias Michael Welsh, lived in Philadelphia, regarding the latter's record. The police superintendent states that so far as he knows the man has no criminal record although the police claim that he had a very bad temper and was addicted to drink.

As yet Leary has not put himself in communication with relatives as to the crime with which he is charged. The only letter he has written was to Representative Sheriff of Richmond, by whom he was employed at the time of his recent arrest. Leary was anxious that Mr. Sheriff should call on him at the jail but the latter has failed to go up to the present time.

Sheriff Fuller has asked the Philadelphia police to notify Leary's relatives of the charge preferred against him. It is very likely that Leary's counsel will also communicate with them regrding the matter.

Nothing definite is known regarding the movement for a speedy trial for the prisoner. This matter rests entirely in the hands of the chief justice of the superior court. If the matter is allowed to take the usual course it will be late in the fall of 1902 before Leary is placed on trial on the charge of murder

MANY POLICE COURT CASES

Disorderly House Raided. Pitchfork Stabbing Case. Civil Entries

The continued case of John Brennan engineer in the Canedy-Clark shoe company, for alleged assault on Joseph Jackson, a colored boy who works in the box room, came up for trial before the district court this morning. Brennan was discharged.

Jackson claimed that while he was passing through the boiler room into the engine room on his way to the box room with some paste, Brennan caught him and pulled him back. He started to go out another door and Brennan grabbed a pitchfork and stabbed him in the leg. As a result of the wound inflicted he was laid up for two weeks. Dr. Canedy described the wound.

Brennan took the stand and said that he was shoveling chips into the furnace when Jackson passed through the boiler room. No one is allowed to pass through the engine room, and when Jackson tried to do so Brennan pulled him back. As the boy went out through the other door he stopped and made a kick at Brennan striking his leg on the point of the pitchfork. Brennan had two witnesses, one of whom corroborated his story. The other witness testified that at Brennan's request he called on Jackson the next day after the occurrence, and the boy told him it was an accident.

James Gilrain and Annie Houseman plead guilty to the charge of fornication and were each fined $20. They were arrested in a house kept by Annie Whitcomb on Liberty street about 9.30 last evening. From time to time bad reports of the house have reached the police, and last night Chief Dineen detailed Officers Bowes, P. Walsh and N. Walsh to investigate. As a result of the raid Mrs. Annie Whitcomb was before the court this morning charged with keeping a disorderly house. Her case was continued until Monday.

Clara C. Affhausser was charged with adultery with Alfred H. Ford on complaint of Charles M. Affhauser. As Ford was not in court the case was continued until Monday.

Several witnesses testified in the civil case of Charles Smith vs. Kate O'Brien for breach of contract, and the case will be continued Monday afternoon.

Three more civil cases were entered this morning. Mary K. Richmond will sue George Shand for $22.30. Alex Filiault, Jr., will sue Richard Strong, and others as a result of injuries to his arm received July 3, in the carding room of the Briggsville mill. Filiault claims that the machinery was defective, and that he was not properly instructed in its use by the defendants, John Bresnahan and company will sue Minnie Cleveland for breach of contract.

WILLIAMSTOWN

UPTON MUST PAY $2000.

Selectmen Vote Not to Grant Request to Lower License of William Upton $500

The board of selectmen has decided not to grant the petition of William Upton to reduce his license fee from $2000 to $1500 and Mr. Upton will be compelled to pay the first amount. The matter was decided by the full board by a unanimous vote and Mr. Upton has been informed of the result.

The matter was dismissed at the meeting and the opinion was that the selectmen could not reduce the license if they so desired. One quarter of the license fee, which is $500, goes to the state and the remainder, $1500, to the town. The amount due the state has already been sent to the treasurer of the commonwealth and if a reduction should be made the town would receive but $1000 which would be but two-thirds of the entire amount.

The matter will be left as it now stands. Mr. Upton paying $2000 for his license and Mr. Hebert retaining his fifth class license.

She left the officer to get a warrant and punish "the terrible thing," but that was the last that the officer heard or saw of her and he arrived at the conclusion that there had been a reconciliation and all was peace and harmony once more.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Speedy Automobiles Building For Washington's Fire Chiefs.

MILLION TO ALTER WHITE HOUSE.

Colonel L. S. Bingham Makes This Report on Proposed Changes In the Building—Washington Monument's Electric Elevator—Negro Policeman Who Arrested President Grant to Be Retired.

Fire departments all over the country will be interested in knowing that the department in Washington has at last decided to provide its chief and his assistants with automobiles, says the New York Post. The vehicles, five in number, are now building in New York and will be ready for delivery by autumn. An automobile of like design was recently put to a severe test in Hartford with such good results that it was purchased by that city.

The machine to be used in Washington will be known as a "chief's wagon." It resembles somewhat the pictures of the French racing automobiles and was specially devised for the use of fire and police chiefs. Speed has been a prime consideration in its construction, but not at the expense of durability, so that the new vehicle is much heavier than the ordinary racing motor and yet will maintain a speed of 25 miles an hour as long as the batteries stored in front and behind can be depended upon. The motor is so constructed that it may run at four speeds, 7, 10, 15 and 20 miles an hour. The highest speed is to be used only in emergencies, a gait of 15 miles an hour being considered as fast as is necessary on ordinary occasions. The vehicle has attached to the rear a tool chest, in which a small portable searchlight may be carried. With this the person operating the machine can throw a brilliant glare upon any building where the smoke is dense, and by attaching a reel of wire the light may be taken into a building and used to illuminate interiors when the ordinary lights have gone out.

The recent installment of a new electric elevator in the Washington monument at a cost of $26,000 adds another noteworthy attraction to that landmark, inasmuch as the present lift is the largest for passengers in the United States and the most complete in detail of any in the world, says the New York Sun. It ascends to a higher altitude than any "single pull" elevator in existence. In size and carrying capacity it is second only to the mammoth elevator in the Eiffel tower at Paris. It will accommodate 35 persons, and its mechanism permits it to travel at a uniform rate of 100 feet per minute. Thus the distance from the bottom to the top of the shaft, 500 feet, is covered in about five minutes.

So numerous and skillful are the devices intended to insure safety that, so far as the engineers and electrical experts can see, there is positively no way in which an accident can occur. The car may be controlled by a wheel, a button or a lever, all of which are at the hand of the operator, any one of which will cause immediate response on the part of the conveyance. The car's motion is so accurately "timed" that it cannot go faster than at a rate of 103 feet per minute without being checked by one or more of the automatic safety arrangements, and when stopped irregularly it cannot again proceed until everything has been put to rights by the electricians, whose headquarters are in the basement, who may be notified by means of a telephone in the car.

Colonel L. S. Bingham, in charge of buildings and grounds, has made a report of the items of expense in the proposed extension of the White House, writes the New York Journal's Washington correspondent. Congress is yet to determine whether there shall be the elaborate structure proposed, but it has authorized an expenditure of $6,000 to discover how much the structure would cost.

The improvements, change of plans, will cost more than $1,000,000, as shown by the following detailed estimates: Excavation, $10,000; concrete, $35,000; steel, $180,000; floor system, $840,000; wooden, $70,000; walls, $852,000; windows, etc., $24,000; marble columns, $100,000; mechanical equipment, $80,000; painting and plastering, $30,000; contingencies, 10 per cent, $103,360; total, $1,824,360.

W. H. West, the colored policeman of Washington who achieved notoriety in the seventies by arresting General U. S. Grant, then president of the United States, for fast driving and who was then saved from dismissal through the intercession of President Grant, will be retired shortly after 30 years' service on the Washington police force, says the New York Sun. West's retirement is the direct result of his conviction recently on a charge of conduct unbecoming an officer.

He had previously in the years of his service been before the police board 21 times for violations of the police regulations, but always managed to escape dismissal. It has been West's boast for many years that a life position was given him by General Grant and that he could not be discharged. After his recent conviction sentiment secured his retirement instead of dismissal.

POWNAL CENTER

Most of the farmers have finished their haying and report a good crop. Oats will be a light crop. Potatoes small and few in the hill. Small fruits such as berries of all kinds, there has been an abundance. Cultivated black berries are fine. Pears and plums, there is a fair crop if they mature and ripen. Apples, scarcely any. What few there are are dropping off badly. We had a hard thunder storm Sunday night, which washed the fields and slashed the waterways in good shape. We are having dog day weather in good earnest.

The lawn party given by the King's daughters of the M. E. church at the residence of C. H. Myers last Thursday evening was a success, a large compan ybeing present and the evening being fine. Over 200 persons had supper and ice cream. Pownal band was present and played some fine selections, which were highly appreciated by all present. The receipts of the evening were over sixty dollars, which will greatly encourage the society in the work they have undertaken, which is to put a heater in the church at Pownal.

Arthur Card of East Pownal has imported a pair of pigs from J. Silver & Co. of Cleveland, O., weighing about 150 pounds. They are of the O. I. C. breed and are fine specimens of swine, and it is hoped that by introducing this new breed all the swine breeders will be greatly benefited. Price paid for the pair, $45.

TO SHOW AMERICAN GOODS

Plans of Consul McWade at Canton to Advance Trade.

"There are no American merchants in Canton," says Consul McWade, writing to the state department at Washington from Canton, China, "and there is no record in this consulate of any having registered at the other treaty ports within this consular district, but inquiries are frequent from American manufacturers and business men generally as to the possibility of the sale of their respective products and wares, the prices likely to obtain and the names of responsible Chinese or other firms as prospective customers. These inquiries are usually accompanied by illustrated and descriptive brochures, sometimes by leaflets and often by trade journals, in which the goods are generously and profusely advertised. Chinese merchants do not see those advertisements, pamphlets, etc., and if they did could not read them or understand their purport. The only importers who can understand them are the British, the French and Germans, who naturally give a decided preference to the goods consigned to them from their own countries and will only accept American articles when their own cannot meet them in price, demand, ingenious workmanship, etc.

"Proper samples, however, tell their own story and help a consul wonderfully in pushing trade or rather in creating a demand which in time may become remunerative. I am about to set aside a part of the consulate for the public exhibition of all samples forwarded to me. At present the space which I will be able to give for that object will necessarily be limited, but I hope in the near future to have ample exhibition room to accommodate all consignments as well as visitors, Chinese and others."

OUT OF THE WINDOWS

The Temptation Which Assailed a Good Woman—A Morbid Impulse

In a recent letter to a friend, a woman says she has been troubled from her childhood with an affection of the liver. Her skin was sallow and the whites of her eyes of a yellowish color. "I was always languid and weary and I had no appetite. As my complaint grew worse I was so low in spirits and so intensely excitable and nervous that I often felt as though I could jump out the window.

"In March, 1899, an old friend said I ought to try a new medicine named Calcura Solvent, which had the reputation of being the best thing in the world for liver, stomach and kidney complaints. She said it was a new discovery by Dr David Kennedy.

"After taking the Calcura Solvent only ten days I was greatly improved, and in two or three months I was well and strong for the first time in my whole life. My spirits are natural now. I enjoy myself like other healthy women, and you wouldn't think I had a nerve in my body."

If your druggist is out of Calcura Solvent, send $1 to Dr. David Kennedy, Kennedy row, Kingston, N. Y.; express prepaid. Write for free sample bottle.

AGUINALDO IN CAPTIVITY.

Captain Mallory, His Late Keeper, Tells of His Life at Manila.

One of the passengers returning to San Francisco from Manila on the transport Meade the other day was Captain J. S. Mallory of the Second infantry, late lieutenant colonel of the Forty-first volunteer infantry, who had charge of Aguinaldo in Manila from the time of his arrival last March in the Vicksburg to the time of Mallory's departure in July. No American perhaps knows more about the leader of the Filipinos than does Mallory, who occupied a room in the same building with him and had daily chats with the insurgent leader.

"Aguinaldo is a shrewd young man," said Mallory to a reporter of the New York Sun, "and is apparently loyal to the United States since taking the oath of allegiance. With him are his wife and two children, Miguel, a boy of 5 years, and a baby daughter. He is quite devoted to them. I read in the newspapers some time ago that little Miguel had died, but that was an error.

"Aguinaldo is in good health. Nothing was ever said by those in authority while I was in charge of the prisoner as to what would ultimately be done with him. He has comparative freedom upon the premises where he is confined and has full charge of his own household arrangements.

"Aguinaldo devotes the greater part of his time to studying. He learns rapidly and can converse fairly well with simple words. He delights to speak English with his Filipino friends who understand the tongue, but when others are near he refrains from airing his limited vocabulary. It will not be long, however, until he will be able to speak well.

"Surveillance is not so strict now as before he took the oath of loyalty. He has even been accorded the privilege of driving about the city in company with an American officer, but has never availed himself of it, preferring to remain within the grounds, where he walks in the garden for out of door exercise. Visitors are numerous at the place, and it is not often that Aguinaldo refuses to receive them. He is extremely courteous, speaking freely through an interpreter unless some delicate question is propounded, when he asks to be excused."

OUR EXPORTS TO JAPAN.

Big Growth In Trade With the Island Empire.

Remarkable growth in the exports of the United States to Japan and in the rank which she now holds in supplying the imports of that prosperous and rapidly developing country is shown by the annual returns of the foreign trade of the empire of Japan, just received by the treasury bureau of statistics.

This shows that the imports from the United States have grown from 6,000,000 yen in 1893 to over 60,000,000 yen in 1900 and that the United States, which stood sixth in rank in the list of countries from which Japan drew her imports in 1893, is now second in the list, being only exceeded by Great Britain.

In 1893 the imports into Japan from Great Britain were valued at 27,829,628 yen, those from China 17,095,074 yen, from British India 8,679,029 yen, from Hongkong 8,268,071 yen, from Germany 7,318,133 yen and from the United States 6,090,208 yen. In 1900 the list stood: From the United Kingdom, 71,038,119 yen; from the United States, 62,761,196 yen; China, 29,960,740 yen; Germany, 29,199,695 yen; British India, 23,516,350 yen; Hongkong, 10,659,855 yen; France, 8,095,819 yen; Belgium, 1,949,253 yen.

TO EXCHANGE COLLEGIANS.

Embassador Choate's Plan For English and American Prize Winners.

Embassador Choate in distributing prizes at the University college in London the other day said he wished the experiment could be tried of sending prize winners to the United States and distributing them among the various schools and colleges, while an equal number of American prize boys were sent to England to attend school or college.

He added, says the New York Sun, that he believed the experiment, if repeated for three or four years, would greatly promote harmony and kindly feeling between the two countries and that "altogetherness" of which the head master of the college had just spoken.

Labor Wanted In Hawaii.

"We want all the labor we can get in the islands," declared Colonel Sam Parker, the Hawaiian cattle king, now on a tour of the United States, to a reporter of the Kansas City Journal. "I can employ all the men that are sent. Years ago I tried to get south sea islanders and succeeded in securing 25. They cost $1,000 each, as I bought and fitted a vessel to go after them, which was wrecked, and then chartered another. The Porto Ricans should make splendid laborers for our islands, and I am ready personally to employ all they can send me. The government lands are of immense area and are leased on long time to people like myself who would be glad to work every foot of them if we could get the labor with which to do it."

PAINTERS AND WRITERS.

Benjamin Constant, the artist, is to paint another portrait of Pope Leo, the sittings to begin early in the fall.

Duffaud's "English In Ireland, 1798," which caused such a sensation, is now said to have been painted at the suggestion of Maud Gonne, the Irish agitator.

Philip James Bailey, the author of "Festus," published in 1839, is still alive and recently attained his eighty-fifth year. Among the books that nobody has read "Festus" is perhaps the most famous.

William Quiller Orchardson, the English R. A., has been elected a foreign associate of the French Academy of Fine Arts as successor to M. Broszik. He has been a correspondent of the academy since 1895.

Miss Mary Johnston, who wrote "Prisoners of Hope" and "To Have and to Hold," is not very tall, and her figure is slender and fragile. Her eyes are large and brown, with little flecks of gold. Her tastes are those of a charming woman who, although unconventional, respects every propriety. She has traveled extensively in this country and abroad.

F. R. Shaw's trotting stallion Alvander, which is under the care of Eddie Bass of Springfield, made his first appearance of the season in the 2 20 class trot at Old Saugus, Wednesday and in a field of seven starters, won fourth money. Considering it was his first start and the horses he went against, he made a fine showing and as has been predicted for him, before the season ends he will lower his mark of 2.19¼, easily. He finished third in the first, fourth in the second and third and second in the fourth heats. The time was 2.16½, 2.16½, 2.16 and 2.17½. He won fourth money in a $500 purse.

COST OF SCHLEY INQUIRY

Small Fortune Will Be Spent by Navy Department.

CLOUD OF WITNESSES ON HAND.

Officers to Be Summoned From All Over the World to Appear at the Hearing—Ten From Asiatic Station. Court Will Be Held In Richly Appointed Room.

Now that an official investigation of the Sampson-Schley controversy has been ordered no expense will be spared, as it is the purpose of the secretary of the navy to get every possible fact having any bearing on the Santiago campaign over which disputes have arisen before the court of inquiry, says a special dispatch from Washington to the New York World. Every officer whose testimony will be of the slightest value will be summoned to Washington, whether on duty on the Asiatic station or in Europe.

The meetings of the court are to be held in the most richly appointed apartment of the navy department, the floors of which are covered with expensive carpets, the walls elaborately decorated and hung with valuable paintings of former secretaries and which is furnished with mahogany tables, settees and big easy chairs upholstered in leather.

The naval regulations provide that officers of the navy traveling under orders in the United States shall be allowed 8 cents per mile while so engaged in lieu of their actual expenses. Officers traveling to the United States from a foreign station will receive subsistence pay at the rate of from 80 cents to $1 per day if traveling on a naval vessel or on an army transport, but as very few of the officers summoned from foreign countries can travel on government vessels actual traveling expenses will be allowed for the sea voyage and 8 cents per mile for such part of the journey as is made by rail. A naval officer coming from the Philippines to San Francisco on a merchant vessel would receive about $300 for the sea voyage, $250 for the journey from San Francisco to Washington and the same returning to his post.

Officers ordered to appear as witnesses before a court of inquiry or to serve as members of a court receive no extra compensation Retired officers ordered to duty on a court of inquiry will receive full active pay for the time employed Rear Admirals Kimberly and Benham, both retired, will receive pay, therefore, at the rate of $6,375 instead of $5,675 a year All officers whose presence will be required in Washington, except those on duty here, will receive commutation of quarters while here at the rate of $12 a room per month and are allowed a number of rooms, according to rank.

The principal witnesses to be called before the Schley court of inquiry and their present stations are as follows.

Captain Cook of the Brooklyn, at Annapolis; Captain Clark of the Oregon, League island, Captain Chadwick of Admiral Sampson's flagship, the New York, Newport; Rear Admiral Evans of the Iowa, Washington, at present on a yachting trip. Rear Admiral Higginson of the Massachusetts, now in command of the north Atlantic station; Lieutenant Commander Wainwright, commander of the Gloucester, now superintendent of the Naval academy at Annapolis; Lieutenant Sharp of the Vixen, on duty on the training ship Hartford, somewhere off the coast of Sweden; Admiral Sampson, Boston; Lieutenant Staunton, Sampson's flag lieutenant, now in command of Yankton, in Porto Rican waters; Lieutenant Commander Sears, Schley's flag lieutenant, hydrographic office, New York; Lieutenant Wells, Schley's secretary, on the Kearsarge; Lieutenant Marsh, Sampson's secretary, on the Mayflower; Lieutenant Hodgson, navigator of the Brooklyn, Newport; Lieutenant Commander Seaton Schroeder, executive officer of the Massachusetts, naval governor of Guam; Executive Officer Harbor of the Texas, naval attache at Paris or St. Petersburg.

How many of the subordinate officers will be summoned is yet to be determined. It is probable that when the list of witnesses is completed as many as ten will be called from the Asiatic station, and if no warship or government transport is available in time they will be directed to come on merchant vessels from Hongkong. Should ten officers come on merchant vessels from the far east that alone would entail an item of $5,000.

In addition to the expense of bringing witnesses, there are the running expenses of the court. Stenographers and a clerical force are required, while the item of stationery will not be inconsiderable. The inquiry will doubtless last a month, if not two months.

Although Admiral Schley has a right to challenge any member of the court for cause, it is believed by his friends the personnel of the court will be highly satisfactory to him. It is agreed in Washington that it is about the best that could be assembled.

The secretary said recently that all witnesses on foreign stations whose testimony might be required would of course be ordered to Washington. Department officials see no reason why officers of Cervera's squadron cannot be properly invited to appear before the court to give testimony, but doubt is expressed at Washington if any of Cervera's officers would care to respond to a request for their presence.

Admiral Schley, it is expected, will soon communicate with the department as to his wishes relative to the summoning of witnesses who may be on foreign stations.

CORONETS TO MEASURE.

Headgear For British Coronation Has to Be Specially Prepared.

"We have had one or two orders for coronets for the coronation, but as yet the coming event is casting little shadow before in the shape of business. It's a long way off yet." So said Mr. Simmons, the court costumer of the Haymarket, to a London Express representative. He added that the bulk of the fortunate people having coronets would probably put off ordering them until the last moment and then expect them to be made while they waited, so to speak. Coronets require delicate workmanship and cannot be "knocked off." Nor can they be kept in stock, like hats A coronet has to be made to measure or else it is uncomfortable. A peer with a No. 7 head who tried to put it into a 6⅞ coronet would suffer pain

Mr. Simmons exhibited an earl's coronet and countess' ditto, which he had just made. He unwrapped them in the blaze of the afternoon sun, shining through the huge showroom windows, and they winked and blazed until it seemed as if they must set the tissue paper on fire. The circlet was of silver, heavily gilded, and they were upholstered in rich crimson velvet, with a band of miniver. A baronet's coronet, next displayed, was much the same as the earl's, except that it lacked the crimson velvet. What it lost in impressiveness, however, it gained in coolness.

If it is 80 in the shade on coronation day, it will be better for some reasons to be a baron than an earl.

UNSOLVED TANGLE

Questions at Issue in Cheshire Street Railway Muddle

CONFERENCE HELD LAST NIGHT

Selectmen Met Officers of the Berkshire Company and Talked Over the Situation, What Some of the Officials Say

The Cheshire street railway mix-up is now a question of authority between the selectmen of the town and the state highway commission. The Berkshire company, whose raid on the town and speedy building of rails was reported yesterday, claims to have authority from the commission to lay rails through the disputed territory. The selectmen, on the other hand, claim that under the agreement of the town with the Berkshire and Pittsfield companies, the authority to build the track could not be given by the highway commission in any way that would break the agreement. The officials of the Berkshire company also maintain that the agreement with the town of Cheshire gives either company the right to build this stretch of track when it shall have a "continuous route" from Pittsfield to that point, and that they obtained the "continuous route" when they secured the continuous right of way. This is one of the points on which the case will turn.

The Cheshire selectmen held a meeting last evening, at which a number of officials of the Berkshire road were present. A lengthy conference was held in which the situation was gone over at length. Among those present for the Berkshire road were President Gillett, Treasurer Eaton, Lawyer Hibbard and Franklin Weston at Dalton, one of the directors.

President Gillett had with him a copy of the permission from the state highway commission to build the tracks from the junction of the Lanesboro and reservoir roads to the corner of South and Main streets. This, he claimed, was full authority for doing what the company had done, according to its franchise and the locations aproved by the board of selectmen on July 24 at Cheshire. The selectmen had on that day approved of the entire route of the Berkshire street railway company in the town of Cheshire.

No decision was reached at last evening's conference in regard to the matter, and today Chairman Dean of the selectmen went to Pittsfield to consult with the attorney of the selectmen, ex-Mayor Hawkins of Pittsfield, and with other men interested in the matter.

In connection with the dispute, the text of the franchise given by Cheshire to the two roads will be of interest. The following is taken from the franchise of the Berkshire company. The franchise given to the Pittsfield company reads exactly the same with the exception of the names of the road.

"A location over so much of the location herein granted as is included between the junction of the old Lanesboro and reservoir roads and the terminus in Main stret opposite the town hall having heretofore been also granted to the Pittsfield street railway company, so called, it is understood and agreed that the company which shall first have constructed its tracks, poles, wires and appliances therein shall permit the other company to use and operate its cars on and by means of said tracks, poles, wires and appliances, on such terms as may be agreed upon between such companies, or shall be fixed or approved by the board of railroad commissioners.

"Said Berkshire electric railway company shall not enter upon any part of the aforesaid portion of its location for the purpose of doing any work thereon until it shall have completed to the satisfaction of the selectmen a continuous route for the operation of its cars from the Lanesboro town line northerly to the junction of the old Lanesboro and reservoir roads."

As will be seen by the wording of the franchise, the "continuous route" referred to must be "to the satisfaction of the selectmen."

Walter F. Hawkins, counsel for the selectmen, says that whatever technicality can be raised out of the words, "a continuous route" the understanding was plain and the clause was originally understood alike by both the officials of the two companies, the selectmen and himself. The completion of the road for the operation of cars was what all agreed upon as the meaning of this wording.

An official of the Pittsfield company said yesterday that his company had secured all the rights that the Berkshire company had exxcept that the selectmen had approved of its location only to the corner of South and Main streets not approving the Main street location. He said that this approval of the Main street location by the selectmen had been an oversight on the part of the selectmen of Cheshire and had been discovered after the aproval of the locations had been signed. The Berkshire company he had been told by the Cheshire selectmen, had agreed not to take the advantage of the approval of the location of the road on Main street.

The Pittsfield company has its right of way along the state highway lay out approved as had the Berkshire company and its operations north from Lanesboro had been only in strict accordance with the provisions of its franchise.

The officials of the Pittsfield company in general believe that it is "up to the selectmen of Cheshire to make some move to oust the Berkshire company from the road that it has seized.

Mr. Dean said this afternoon that there was no change in the situation, and that no more work was being done on Main street in Cheshire. Nothing more will be done till next week.

The Hoosac Valley Road

President C. Q. Richmond of the Hoosac Valley Street Railway company said today that on Monday, Engineer Locke with assistants will begin the survey of the route for the extension of the company's tracks to Cheshire, from the north end of the state road at Arnoldsville in Adams, to the Center street bridge in that town. The road from the state road to Cheshire has been prepared according to the state commissioners' survey and awaits the action of the state authorities.

There has been much comment in Adams regarding the extension and many of the citizens who have not understood the condition of affairs have believed the delay unwarranted. However, the company has pushed matters as fast as possible, but owing to surveys progress has been slow.

In connection with next week's survey the matter of an overhead or trestle crossing at the Maple Grove Boston and Albany railroad crossing will have to be considered and plans made.

As soon as all surveys are made and the company can proceed without having to make changes for the highway commissioners the work will be pushed rapidly to completion and the statement that the Hoosac Valley company will be first to have a through line to Cheshire will be carried out.

GOVERNOR CRANE TO BE THERE

Circular Letter on Diocesan Field Day at Fitchburg

St. Bernard's temperance society of Fitchburg has addressed a circular to all the societies in the Springfield diocese, outlining the program for the 19th annual field day celebration, to be held in Fitchburg, Labor day, next. The parade will start at 10.39 a. m. sharp, and it is expected that nearly every society in the diocese, as well as from the arch diocese of Boston, will be in line, several thousand men in all. The Fitchburg military band, 25 pieces, will head the line, and there will be something like 30 bands and drum corps to help out in the music of the day.

Several prizes are offered for the best appearing float arranged by the ladies, and the best appearing society in line will also draw a prize. Governor Crane and staff, Mayor Babbitt and the city government have been invited to review the parade. Governor Crane has not missed one of these field day celebrations for several years, and the chances are that he will be there.

In addition to the usual athletic events, there will be a prize exhibition drill by the Hibernian Knights, a Gaelic football game between the Irish and Scotch players of Fitchburg, 17 on a side, and two baseball games, C. Y. M. L. of Worcester vs. Fr. Mathew of North Adams and St. Jeromes of Holyoke and St. Aloysius of Worcester. Band concerts and other attractions will be offered during the day.

A Mighty Big Hotel

Now that the frame work of the hotel Aspinwall in Great Barrington is up and the building is nearly all inclosed the residents of that part of the town and those who have visited the site of the hotel are astonished at the size of the structure. No such building for the entertainment of guests has ever been erected in this part of the state. The construction of out-buildings, roads, power houses, stables, and cold storage plant makes the place a beehive of activity just now. The Cliffords, who are the contractors, have over 100 men at work and electric light men, plasterers, plumbers and all the rest of the artisans now engaged on the building make business brisk in Lenox.

It took 16 horses on each of the boilers to draw them down from the city to the hotel. The boilers were bought in Boston. Many contracts for equipment and supplies for the house have been given out.

Epworth League Convention

The executive committee for the entertainment of the Troy district Epworth league convention in Pittsfield with the cabinet of the Pittsfield league met this week and preliminary plans were made for the convention which is to be held in the Methodist church in Pittsfield on Thursday, October 18. The principal speaker is to be Rev. W E. Goodell, pastor of Hanson Place Methodist church, Brooklyn, N. Y., and it is probable that other speakers will be Rev. Geo. T. Lemmon and Rev Andrew H. Gillis of Troy. The Pittsfield league will serve tea, coffee and sandwiches to the delegates. A special train from Troy will be run bringing all delegates from that end of the district and returning after the evening service

The L. L. Brown Hearing

The hearing yesterday in the case of the L. L. Brown paper company against L. L. Brown, was devoted to the examination of J. H. Carmeincke, the expert accountant, for the defendant, the business for the year 1889 being the subject of inquiry. Mr. Carmiencke was suffering from lumbago, but kept steadily at his evidence, and adjournment was taken at 3.30 until Monday at 10 a. m. Much of the day was devoted to putting in evidence relative to many notes and discounts, entered late on the books.

Golden Wedding Reception

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rossman of Elm street will observe the 50th anniversary of their marriage next Wednesday. The observance will take the form of a golden wedding reception in the parlors of the Baptist church next Wednesday evening from 8 till 10 o'clock, given by their friends in and out of the church. Mr. and Mrs. Rossman were married in New York state, but have passed most of their married life in this city, and are very well known. A large attendance is expected at the reception, which promises to be a most pleasant social event

Fosburghs Leave Pittsfield

The Fosburgh family left Pittsfield this morning. Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Fosburgh and daughters, Esther and Beatrice, go to Eau Claire, Wis., and James R. A., the Yale student, joins his brother at Maynard for a few weeks. A reception was given them in Pittsfield last evening and many friends called to tender good wishes and bid the family good-by.

MIDSUMMER MINSTRELSY

Primrose & Dockstader Introduce New Features to Crowded House

Richmond theater opened its doors last evening in the heart of the dog day season to accommodate a crowd that completely filled the house, all for the purpose of being entertained by Primrose & Dockstader's minstrels. There was no doubt about the success of these entertainers and their troupe, although it was only the second night on the road this season, and things in the way of scenery and light effects did not run as smoothly as they will later. The show itself, however, went well, and was as funny as ever

Much of the show was new, although quite a number of last season's specialties and songs were introduced. The first part setting is new and one of the most attractive ever seen on the minstrel stage. Instead of the conventional setting, an exterior autumn scene representing the "garden of the gods" in Italy was shown. Neil O'Brien, otherwise known as "himself" and Eddie Leonard divided honors with Primrose & Dockstader in the first part, "himself" being almost as successful an entertainer as Dockstader "himself."

In the second part "himself" and W H Hallett did their act which is similar to the one they put on last season, with huge success. Ollie Young and brother in their hoop rolling act were in some respects the most interesting act on the program. Then came Lew, with a brand new fake, in the way of a scene representing him in the stocks. While probably nothing for a long time will equal his former "billboard" entrance, still his new scene is very entertaining and his monologue work was up to the limit, as always. Primrose had a few changes in his pickaninnies dancing act, the marvellous picture scenes forming the prelude, as last year. The banjoists and the parallel bar act closed the program, both attracting great interest. Altogether the show compares favorably with any thing ever seen in the minstrel line, and was a pleasing midsummer diversion

The audience was given a shock in the final parallel bar act, when one of the acrobats fell and struck the floor instead of the mat. He was unhurt and went on with his act

A special train will be run on the Delaware and Hudson railroad during the summer to accommodate those desiring to attend the races at Saratoga The train will leave Troy at 12.30 o'clock, reaching Saratoga about an hour later. In view of this fact the management of the races will call the first race at 2.15 o'clock, allowing ample time for those who go on that train to reach the track in time for the first race. The feature Monday at the Saratoga track is the $10,000 handicap, for which the best horses in training in the east are entered. The total purses Monday aggregate $17,500.
